SANTA BARBARA, CAL.

Its Climate and Productions.

ERRORS REPUBLICAN: As I receive a great many letters from residents of Macon county asking for a description of this part of the country, I will answer them through the columns of the REPUBLICAN. They have heard of the famed city by the sea, of the climate, of the fruits and flowers, of the mountain scenery, and the grand bay with its placid waters, stretching far out to the Santa Cruz island. If time and distances did not play an important part in man's life, the trains could scarcely carry the thousands who would make a hasty visit to see for themselves.

Santa Barbara is one of the most attractive localities in the United States. It lies on the Pacific coast south of the line of cold winter storms, and is only occasionally touched by light frosts. The valley of Santa Barbara is crescent shaped, the indentation being to the south. On the north the high mountains rise, forming a barrier to the northern blasts. With a gentle slope from the mountains to the sea, the valley has a warm exposure seaward, while the temperate and invigorating winds from the ocean sweep up in gentle breezes. The city of Santa Barbara has a population of 5,000. The different denominations are well represented by churches which are well attended.

THE CLIMATE.

The climate of this region is nearly perfect. From May to November there is no rain. From November to about the middle of December there are some showers. The winter rains last from that time until the end of February. In March and April there are the spring rains. Nearly three-fourths of the rain falls at night, so that it is generally pleasant to be out of doors all day. In summer the people very generally wear clothing of light wool fabrics. There is no oppressive or enervating heat. Sunstroke is unknown and summer diseases never heard of.

Children who would die from feeble lungs and lack of vitality in other lands, or who would grow up invalids to fill early graves, can here be reared to a robust maturity and live to a good old age. Those of mature years who come from other climates in failing health can here recover if not already past recovery; while if they are past recovery in this mild but bracing air. During the winter season ordinary woolen garments are worn.

PRODUCE.

To attempt a detailed statement of the variety, quality and quantity of products either agricultural or horticultural would require several issues of the REPUBLICAN. There are corn, wine, oil, milk and honey, bananas, wheat, olives and barley, melons of every kind, apples, peaches, pears, nectarines, custard fruit, Japanese persimmons and loquats, plums, berries of every kind, and vegetables of every name. Flowers of every variety bloom out of doors the year round in wild luxuriance. Here are to be found fields of corn richer and more luxuriant than any of the western prairies. The dairy lands grow the Alfalfa clover, yielding from six to eight crops a year, averaging from one to two tons per acre at each cutting—a yield of ten to twelve tons per acre of Alfalfa hay per year. Of this part of the world it may be safely said that it has fewer objectionable features than probably any other region. It has the healthiest climate and most productive soil joined to all the conveniences of civilization.

W. A. FORD.

The Next Illinois Legislature.

Well informed democratic politicians have no hope of securing a majority on joint ballot in the next legislature, although some think there is a possibility of getting the lower house through the apathy and dissension of the republicans, and the peculiar operation of the minority system. Under this system neither party can ever secure a large majority in the lower house. There are 51 districts, and each party is certain under ordinary circumstances to elect one of the three members from each district. The contest then is to secure the third member in the 51 districts. Of these 51 districts 32 gave majorities for Garfield and 19 for Hancock. On that basis the republicans will have 22 to add to their 51 and the democrats 19, making 83 republicans to 70 democrats. That is as large a majority as any party is likely to secure as parties are now organized. It requires a remarkable faith for any democrat to expect this year to gain a majority of the third members in the 51 districts. Could they do this, they would still fail of a majority on joint ballot. Of the 25 senators who hold over, 17 are republicans and 8 democrats—a majority of 9. Of the 26 to be elected this year, 16 will be republicans and 10 democrats, according to the vote for president. On the whole, we hardly think any republican need be very much alarmed about the next legislature.

Iowa Prohibition.

Iowa is all stirred up on the liquor question. One week from next Tuesday—June 27—the people of that state will vote for or against an amendment to the state constitution absolutely prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks. The proposed amendment is as follows:

No person shall manufacture for sale, sell, or keep for sale as a beverage, any intoxicating liquor whatever, including ale, wine and beer. The General Assembly shall by law prescribe the penalties for the enforcement of the provisions herein contained, and shall thereby provide suitable penalties for violations of the provisions thereof.

The champions of both sides of the controversy are canvassing the state thoroughly, and the prospect is that a fair vote will be brought out. The prohibitionists feel very confident of the success of the amendment.

In explanation of the above list it should be said that a pupil is ranked "unconditioned" when he has done all the work of the previous year, "conditioned" when he has done more than half but not all of the year preceding that in which he is placed.

Several pupils whose work has irregularly reached in advance of their class cannot be definitely ranked by this plan and some who on entering the school took advanced studies will find themselves ranked low because they have not yet secured a record on the earlier studies. Any wishing to pass high school studies by examination can have an opportunity to do so on Saturday of August if they will give notice a week before that time so questions may be ready on the various subjects.

The Republican School.

The Republican school, which has been presided over for the past nine months by Miss Lizzie E. Linkens, closed on Thursday last with a picnic and exhibition. The speeches, recitations and dialogues and the dinner were heartily enjoyed by all. The prizes for deportment and good lessons were not forgotten. The attendance of parents, children and friends was large. Just at the conclusion of the day's pleasure, Miss Linkens was presented by her pupils with a handsome gold pen, which was a complete surprise to her, and will undoubtedly be treasured as a token of the esteem and affection of her scholars.

Tris whole secret of accumulation consists in that one little word "save." What difference does it make whether a man's income is a dollar a day or a dollar a minute, if he spends every cent as fast as he makes it? The unmarried young man who does not save money on six dollars a week, would never save a cent if his income was sixty dollars for the same time.

Physiology and Hygiene.

The women and girls of Decatur who feel the need of more practical knowledge on these vital subjects than they possess are invited to meet at the room of the W. C. T. U. on Merchant street, on Wednesday next at 2 o'clock p. m. The first meeting is free and the invitation cordial and earnest.

CAPTURED!

The Brookfield Bank Robbers in Hock.

Whispers from Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The election committee will consider the case of Samuel Lee (Republican) against J. T. Richardson, the sitting Democratic member from the first South Carolina district to-morrow. Lee's case is said to be an exceedingly strong one, and the probabilities are that Richardson will be unseated.

Lowie, of Alabama, Greenbacker, recently seated in place of ex-Confederate General Wheeler, works with the Republicans, and will probably be re-elected by their aid. He says he hopes Wheeler will be a candidate against him.

General Seville, author of the temperance plank in the Ohio platform, is here. He says the Republicans will carry Ohio in spite of the recent unfavorable predictions.

The house adopted the amendment to the appropriation bill of equalizing the salaries of the senate and house employees. The salaries of the senate employees are about 20 per cent. higher than those of the house, and many efforts have been made by the house to equalize by reducing the senate salaries, but the senate always resisted. McCoid, of Iowa, argued for an increase of the house employees' salaries, saying they are married soldiers. Others favored making a strong fight to reduce the senate employees, even if it causes a long deadlock over the bill.

It is understood that Tresscott will refuse to testify regarding his instructions without the consent of the state department. Blaine's enemies have been attacking him over the request made for $90,000 for secret service abroad, supposing that there was some dark business about the Peruvian affairs. It now turns out that the money was asked by Mr. Frelinghuysen for the purpose of watching American interests in the Panama canal scheme.

St. Louis, June 9.—A special gives the particulars of the capture of the Brookfield bank robbers. Marshal McArthur, of Brookfield, with a posse of men, started after the robbers within an hour after the robbery was committed, and tracked them last night to a log house on the Harper farm, situated in the woods, about 13 miles from Kirksville. The house was fortified to some extent, and had loopholes made by knocking the plaster out from between the logs. The posse surrounded the house, and remained on guard all night, watching it carefully, expecting the men to make a dash for liberty. This, however, was not done, and at 6 o'clock this morning the robbers called out that they would surrender if warranted safe conduct to jail and a fair trial. After consultation with Sheriff Shover, of Adair county, Marshal McArthur and others of the posse, which, at this time, had been largely increased by arrivals from Kirksville and other places, their orders were accepted, and they were ordered to march out with their hands up. Not to be taken by surprise, the posse kept their places on all sides of the house, and a strong line was drawn up before the door. In a few minutes the leader, described as a long-nosed man, came out, but with his hands only partly raised. This was not according to agreement, and 100 gunlocks immediately clicked and as many wampum were brought to bear on him. In an instant his hands went up. The other three followed and the sheriff went forward, took their arms away, seven revolvers and two knives, and the prisoners were taken to Kirksville by the Wabash railroad, from whence they were taken to Brookfield this evening on a special train under a strong guard.

The robbers are all young men, and have been living in the country about four months. They had rented the farm they were captured on this spring. They gave their names as Winfield Aldrich, Frank Ward, Bert Ward and Ben Fox. Frank Ward, the oldest, is the only one married and the rest lived with him. They are all under 30 years of age and good looking men. They have been suspected for some time, and when the horses were stolen Saturday night, as previously reported, an officer was put on their track who was only a few hours behind them when they robbed the bank. In searching the house sixty revolvers were found and over 100 pounds of cartridges, masks and explosives were found. The house had every appearance of a small army. One of the robbers told where the stolen money was hidden 6 miles from Brookfield, and an officer went to get it accompanied by Frank Ward's wife. The officers were also informed where the stolen horses could be found. Gov. Crittenden has telegraphed the authorities at Kansas City to ascertain if any of the robbers are members of the old James Gang, and this evening prosecuting Attorney Wallace, County Marshal Murphy, and Dick Little left for Brookfield for the purpose.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Doyle, convicted in Chicago of having in his possession bonds, offers, through counsel, to prove conclusively the genuineness of the $1,000 bond plate, how it was obtained and all about it, provided the government will release him from confinement; and the present investigation at the treasury for the purpose of ascertaining the character of the plate, whether it is good transfer work or merely a counterfeit, and if the former, to ascertain now it was obtained from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and to place the responsibility where it properly belongs. Secretary Folger and other treasury officials deny, in the most positive terms, that there are any spurious bonds in circulation on the ground that if any were in circulation they certainly would have known something about it before now. Doyle's friends claim he is an innocent and misjudged man in this transaction, and that they will prove it to the satisfaction of the government. They state that the bonds found in Doyle's possession are not counterfeits, but bonds printed from a genuine plate, the issue of which, however, were not authorized by law.

CAIRO, June 9.—A man named John Kelley was arrested last night about half a mile south of Columbus, Ky., and proved to be one of the gang who robbed the post office at that place night before last. The watches stolen were found near where he was captured. Kelley gave the whole thing away. Diligent search is being made for the rest of the gang. Nothing besides the watches was recovered.

St. Louis, June 9.—The Italians of this city have decided to have a grand parade and to hold memorial services on Tuesday next in respect to Garibaldi. All the Italian societies in the city will participate, and the societies of other nationalities will be invited to take part.

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—The strike at the Cleveland Rolling Mill is quickly drawing to a close. The places of the strikers are gradually being filled with new men. Mayor Herrick's proclamation and a large force of police have disheartened the union men, and the backbone of the strike is virtually broken.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, grocers of the city of Decatur, do hereby mutually agree that from and after Thursday, June 15th, 1882, we will close our places of business at 8 o'clock p. m., sharp, for the period of one year, the month of December and Saturday of each week excepted.

A CIVIL ACTION.

An interesting civil case received attention in Justice Albert's court this forenoon, in which M. Goldberg, of this city, was plaintiff, and the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville Railway Co. were defendants.

The plaintiff claiming damages in the sum of $75.56. It appeared that on the 29th of last March burglars entered the station house at Dalton City and broke open Mr. Goldberg's trunk, in which were a lot of sample goods, for which he was personally responsible to the wholesale firms he represented. The trunk was sent to Decatur, and the agent informed the officials of the company of the burglary and the amount of the loss sustained by Mr. Goldberg. The company replied that Mr. Goldberg would not suffer, and he surrendered his checks and received his trunk, from which had been extracted a lot of articles. This evidence was offered before Justice Albert. The company was represented by Mr. E. P. Vail, and Mr. W. C. Johns appeared for the plaintiff. Both attorneys made exhaustive arguments before the justice, and an audience composed of City Attorney Hutchinson, a reporter and the plaintiff. At the conclusion of the presentation of law points bearing on the case and the speeches, the justice decided the case in favor of the plaintiff, allowing him the full amount of his claim, $75.56. Mr. Vail announced that he would take an appeal.

"It Works Like a Charm."

This forenoon the county jail prisoners fined by Judge Smith in the circuit court this week, went down to join the Decatur chain gang and to submit themselves to the orders of Street Supervisor Shorb. Their names are Patrick Beardon, guilty of malicious mischief, who was fined $50 and costs; John Rolen, larceny, fined $40, and John Hockinberry, flourishing a deadly weapon, fined $25. These three workmates, two of whom have caused the officers and local courts much trouble and expense, will be allowed $1.50 per day so long as they work until they shall have worked out their fines, and then they will be discharged from further custody. During their connection with the chain gang they will stop each night at the Hotel de Foster. When Pat was sentenced he emphatically averred that he would not work on the chain gang, but he has evidently reconsidered his determination not to obey the order of the court.

In conversation with a REPUBLICAN reporter this morning our modest and retiring friend of the Review, Hon. S. J. Jack, declared emphatically that he is not a candidate for the democratic nomination for the legislature, neither does he desire to occupy a seat in the State senate; but as between the two he would rather go to the legislature by big odds. Mr. Jack declares he will not stand in the way of any Macon county democrat who may desire to become a law maker, but it is questionable what course he would pursue in case the nomination was forced upon him. It appears to be Mr. Jack's highest ambition at present to place the Review in the front rank of provincial daily papers, but if his friends insist on sending him back to the legislature we don't see how he can consistently refuse to go.

Mr. LEON SULLIVAN, the boss of the Decatur Exchange, reports that citizens seen by him give him generous encouragement in his efforts to connect Springfield with Decatur by telephone; but he requires at least 40 persons to purchase five dollars' worth of tickets each before the wire will be put up. This is an enterprise that is naturally attracting general attention, as the wire will prove of incalculable benefit to business men and others. Instead of sending a condensed telegram to the capital, by giving up one 25 cent ticket a person can communicate directly with any person at Springfield and talk for five minutes upon business and other subjects. Most anybody can speak 100 words a minute, and certainly the privilege of speaking 500 words upon a matter of importance ought to be worth 25 cents.

OFFICERS vary as to the size of the audience that will greet the appearance of the Mrs. Jesse James Lecturing Company at the opera house on next Monday evening. No doubt the lecture will be interesting enough with the simple exhibition of Mrs. James and her two children, who will occupy seats upon the stage while Mr. Riches decants upon the life and adventures of the late celebrated robber and cut-throat, but the lesson to be taught is what troubles a number of citizens who have given the matter much thought. The lecture will commence at 8 o'clock. Admission 50 and 75 cents.

A copy of the Greenback (Ind) Banner, of June 8, contains the BERTHELMAN'S synopsis of Dr. Davies' memorial address at Greenwood cemetery on May 30. The Banner says: "During his visit to Greenback Dr. Davies was introduced into the G. A. R. He secured the warm friendship of all who formed his acquaintance. He is a plain, modest and generous man, with a big brain and a big heart, and has wonderful power over an audience. We wished that the whole nation could have heard his sermon as he delivered it in Meharry hall."

The closing scene of the season at Guards' Armory last evening was a social success. The weather was in a slightly melting mood, but nevertheless the attendance was large and the music was good. Mr. McLean, of the Review, was the only member of the press who witnessed the arrangements of the dance and lingered about on the outer edge, while the whirling couples flitted past him in the maze, dizzy swirl.

The warden in the Chester Penitentiary reports 459 convicts in that institution on May 1; received during the month 40; discharged during the month, 12; leaving 487 in that prison on June 1. At Joliet the warden reports 1,487 in that penitentiary May 1; received during the month, 94; total, 1,571; discharged during the month, 78; leaving 1,449 in that institution June 1.

The warm weather is putting new life into farming operations, and nobody is more firmly convinced of this than our staunch Republican friend, Jim Patterson, of Wheatland. Thirteen years have elapsed since the wall of a new born infant was heard in his house, and the one that fell on his ears on Friday night made him feel young again, especially as it was a masculine voice. Father and son both doing well.

Ben F. Rosen, representing one of the largest glassware establishments of Pittsburgh, Pa., was in the city yesterday.

Rev. B. T. Taylor, accompanied by Russell, Luther and Leslie Laws, departed for Piagah, Mo., on Thursday afternoon.

I. O. Eymann sports a new eddy. It's a clipper, and makes the wearer look two years younger.

J. M. Cloyer, Esq., has returned from a month's absence in Ohio and in New York.

Master in Chancery Brown is having a tedious battle with an exasperating bill on the back of his neck, which has not yet bubbled.

A. F. Hyson and J. H. Miller, two young gentlemen of Springfield, Ohio, and relatives of D. A. Maht, arrived in the city on yesterday evening.

Wilson Bering and C. F. Randolph have arrived home from Cornell University. They will return to Ithaca in the fall to resume their studies.

Prof. Samuel McBride, principal of the Blue Mound public schools, has been re-engaged for the coming winter at a salary of seventy-five dollars per month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Condon and granddaughter, May Condon, will leave for St. Louis Monday, on a visit to Will Condon and family at 2225 Olive street.

Miss Eva M. Smith, of Tuscola, is in the city, the guest of Miss Minnie Parker. Miss Smith will depart for Kansas City, Mo., on Monday, and will remain there during the summer.

Carlville Democrat: Miss Jennie Wilson, sister of Mrs. Charles Patchen, also her nieces, Allie and Mamie Freeman, of Decatur, are visiting her, and are pretty girls.

Volney Barber, of Hickory township, is a member of the United States grand jury in session at Springfield, and A. C. Stevens and C. W. Everett are serving as petit jurors.

Clay Dempsey, who has been traveling through northwestern Iowa in the interest of the Decatur Furniture Company, is home on a visit. He will start out again in a short time.

Rev. Dr. Thompson, for six years pastor of the Baptist Church at Peoria, Ill., and at present pastor at Flint, Mich., will occupy the Baptist pulpit in this city to-morrow, morning and evening.

Will Leiby and Will Muszy announce that they will manage select dancing parties next season, and that they will have a superb orchestra at the bat every night.

Geo. W. Downing, who has been selling Boston shoes in St. Louis this week, and witnessing the races, arrived home last night. He is a valued member of the "Bazoo Band" and will go to Muscatine with the Rescues.

Will Myer, who has been flourishing a brush in the city of Chicago during the past several weeks, returned to Decatur this morning. Next Monday he will take charge of Myer & Son's shop and continue in that responsible position for a year or longer.

Prof. Leonard announced last night to the charter members of his class that he contemplated leaving Decatur, and that he thanked all for the generous patronage accorded him during the past seven years. The Professor will probably leave for New York city with his family during the coming week.

Mr. John Campbell of this city has presented his daughter with a beautiful Steinway Grand Piano. It is the finest ever brought to this city. Miss Mary Williams has also indulged to the extent of a fine Cabinet Upright Haines Bros' Piano. They came from C. K. Prescott's popular music house.

Miss Adele Shellsberger, who has been attending the Wesleyan Female College at Cincinnati, has returned home to remain during the summer. She was accompanied by two classmates, Miss Lena Gallie, of Sedalia, Mo., and Miss Minnie Brown, of Nebraska City, Neb., who will remain here for a short time before resuming their journey homeward.

Phocion Howard announces himself as a candidate for representative in the general assembly, from the counties of Vermillion and Edgar. He states his platform to be woman's suffrage so far as the liquor traffic is concerned; opposition to the railway and warehouse commission and to the ceding of the Illinois and Michigan canal to the general government; and state assistance for making good roads.

Maj. J. J. B. DuBois, of Leadville, Colo., blew into town this morning. Although he wears a salmon-tinted face, a scar-pin of virgin gold, and has about him the unmistakable air of a denizen of Caribou Hill, he is nevertheless the same breezy "Jake" as of old, and can harter preparations with the boys, or assume the laced-dial style in a ball room just as completely as ever. Long life and success to the pioneer of the carbonate camp; he's a good one.

This morning Major C. F. Emery, of Maros, and Mr. James Millikin, arrived home after an absence of eleven days in Southern Dakota. The gentlemen report that that is a magnificent section of country, that it laid almost as fine as can be found in Macon county can be had at from three to six dollars per acre. Major Emery purchased three full sections bordering on a beautiful lake of water. The town of Huron, Dakota, where about 1200 people reside, is the liveliest town on the frontier in the northwest. Every train brings 200 to 300 people to the place, and the hotels and boarding houses are literally packed with people every night, three and four in a bed.

William Miller, formerly of this city, graduated from the high school at Bloomington on Thursday, with high honors. The subject of his ringing oration was "Power of Oratory." A paper of the Evergreen City says: "Mr. Miller deserves great credit for the perseverance he has shown in his efforts to obtain an education. He learned the printing trade in Decatur, and after having attended the High School there for about a year and a half, he came to Bloomington and worked at his trade in the office of the Banner of Holiness. He entered the High School a year and a half ago, and worked in the afternoon and kept up his grade by studying at night. If Mr. Miller had remained in Decatur, he would have graduated there this year."

R. S. MEETING.

At 5 o'clock p. m. to-morrow, at the Eldorado hose house, another meeting for railway men and their families will be held. All employees of the different roads centering in this city are cordially invited to come and bring their families.

A PREACHER IN TROUBLE.

Bloomington Panopticon: Rev. James Miller, of Urbana, will be remembered as one of the jurors in the Hoffman case. He is soon to be put on trial for heresy. Last March charges were preferred against him. Matters were allowed to rest until a few days ago. The presiding elder summoned a few ministerial counselors of this city to Urbana to see whether the case could not be settled without going to trial. This was found to be legally impossible under existing church laws. This decision was reached on Wednesday. Both sides are clamorous for the trial, which will be held before a ministerial jury of seven men in two or three weeks. Rev. Miller is charged with preaching heresy regarding the doctrine of total depravity, the atonement, future punishment, etc. Rev. Arthur Bradshaw, an uncle of Bloomington's own and only Bradshaw, is one of those who preferred the charges, and Elder Davies, presiding elder of the Decatur district will prosecute. Rev. Mr. Haines has been asked to defend the case, and will do so if it will not conflict with ministerial work at home. If Mr. Miller is convicted he will stand in the same position to the church court that Rev. Hoffman now does, and they will both stand for trial before the same conference in September.

OUT-DOOR games are now in order, and the City Book Store is well stocked with base balls, ball bats, croquet, lawn tennis, etc. Wallace keeps the best assortment in the city, and sells as cheap as the cheapest.

John Irwin's free water fountain scheme is a success. The "White Front" has proven to be one of the most popular stopping places in the city. The cooler was drained of 90 gallons of ice water one day this week. If the demand is so great now what will it be a month hence when the mercury is in the nineties?

Auction.

J. H. Morris will hold his annual sale of unredeemed pledges in C. A. Carter's building, west side of the old square, commencing this evening, and continue each afternoon and evening next week. Come one and all, and get bargains in Gold and Silver Watches, Diamonds, Necklaces, Table and Pocket Cutlery, Guns, Revolvers, Musical Instruments, Clocks, and many other goods too numerous to mention.
